Ex:
```
typedef struct {
    char data;
    struct list *link;
} list;
```

Each instance of the structure list will have two components, data and link. data is a single character, while link is a pointer to a list structure.